BYLAWS

All professional chapters must adhere to the ACM Professional Chapter bylaws. Please see Appendix A or visit: http://www.acm.org/chapters/professionals/professional-chapters-acm-bylaws.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF CHAPTER OFFICERS

The required officers for professional chapters are: Chair, Vice Chair, and Treasurer. ACM membership is required for these officers.

ACM chapters are charged with meeting the needs of their members, members of the Association, and members of the larger community in which they operate. ACM chapters are responsible for maintaining the frequency and quality of activity in the area they serve, and for identifying and promoting those activities of specific interest to their members.

ACM chapters also have responsibilities to the Association. ACM chapters must communicate with the Association; submit annual financial and activity reports; report changes in officers and contact information; update chapter member lists; and adhere to ACM policies concerning chapter membership, meeting sponsorship, and management of funds.

For information on the specific responsibilities of the Chair, Vice Chair, Treasurer, and other officers, please see Appendix B or visit: http://www.acm.org/chapters/professionals/toolkit/officers-resp

Additional ACM Chapter policies can be found at: http://www.acm.org/chapters/chapter-policies

CHAPTER WEB TOOLS

Chapter Website Hosting
Chapter officers are now able to set up their chapter website on the ACM servers and publicize it through the URL http://your_chapter_name.acm.org. To take advantage of this service, Chapter officers should complete the form at: http://campus.acm.org/public/infodir/chapter_server_account_request.cfm.

The chapter server account will allow officers to load files through SFTP (Secure FTP over SSH) to set up and maintain their Chapter web pages. Technologies available to chapters include PHP, MySQL, Tomcat, and Perl. ACM will consider loading any open source software that Chapters may need to develop and maintain their web pages.

The host provider that ACM uses is A2 Hosting. You can find their Knowledge Base and learn how to host, develop, and maintain your website at this URL: https://www.a2hosting.com/kb. The good place to start familiarizing yourself would be cpanel which is where users are able to access their individual hosting account from: https://www.a2hosting.com/kb/cpanel.

Wiki and Blogs
ACM offers two Wiki engines: MediaWiki (https://www.mediawiki.org/wiki/MediaWiki), the software of Wikipedia, and MoinMoin (https://moinmo.in/), an advanced, easy to use, extensible WikiEngine. Chapter officers will be able to start a wiki for their Chapter to carry out activities that require collaborative writing, document sharing, and website management.

ACM also offers the Movabletype (https://movabletype.com/) publishing platform for Chapter officers and members to use in setting up blogs relevant to their Chapter activities and interests.

To request a Wiki/Blog for your chapter, please complete the form at http://campus.acm.org/public/infodir/chapter_blog_request.cfm.

RECRUITING MEMBERS

The best way to recruit chapter members, and new members for ACM as well, is through personal contact. No quantity of mailings can be as effective as personal contact.

The first source of potential chapter members is ACM and ACM SIG members in your area. ACM headquarters can send a message via listserv to members in the appropriate area detailing your chapter’s activities and mission.
Your professional associates are also potential members. Opportunities for professional growth and networking abound in local chapters of ACM, and many of your colleagues and associates would find the contacts and activities highly rewarding.

Many other sources of members surround you, and all should be explored. Companies using computers or dealing in technology services have personnel who are potential members. Local colleges and high schools have staff members interested in or active in computing.

ACM CONTENT FOR CHAPTER ACTIVITIES

Chapters should consider including the following resources for their activities.

Webinars

ACM keeps you at the cutting edge of the latest technical and technological developments with our ACM Learning Webinar series. Leaders and innovators present today’s and tomorrow’s hottest topics and issues in computing for busy practitioners, as well as educators, students, and researchers. Check out our archive of ACM Learning Webinars: http://learning.acm.org/webinar/index.cfm

Professional Chapters should be sure to check out these webinars:

- “Agile Methods: The Good, the Hype and the Ugly” by Bertrand Meyer
- “Stranger than Fiction: Case Studies in Software Engineering Judgement” by Steve McConnell
- “Async JavaScript at Netflix” by Jafar Husain

Videos

ACM has a plethora of informative videos that would be great to showcase during chapter activities. To view ACM videos please visit: https://www.youtube.com/user/TheOfficialACM/

Some playlists that professional chapters will especially enjoy are:

ACM will cover the cost of transportation for the speaker to travel to your event. For more information please visit: http://dsp.acm.org/

CHAPTER ACTIVITY IDEAS

The kinds of activities a chapter can undertake are endless, depending on the creativity and interest of each group. Some examples include:

Joint Meetings: Joint meetings are a great way to interact with local professionals. It is also an opportunity for professional chapters to meet with local student chapters to teach and advise.

Mixers/Social Events: Host an event, dinner, or dessert party where the main purpose is to meet and greet. Encourage others to interact and exchange thoughts and ideas. For a change of pace, these events can be hosted at bowling alleys, bars, restaurants or at a park on a nice day.

How-to Presentations: Have an expert in a specific field demonstrate and teach. How-to’s can range from anything including “How to fix a resume” to “How to use Photoshop,” and more. The sky is the limit!
Chapter Activities Ideas

App Workshop: There are hundreds of thousands of apps available in the app store and the numbers are ever increasing. What makes an app good, and how can we quantify that? Host a talk that explores these questions, and use example apps to illustrate relevant features.

Networking: Interact with other people to exchange information and develop contacts.

Seminars: Seminars bring together small groups for recurring meetings, focusing each time on some particular subject, in which everyone present is requested to actively participate. This is often accomplished through an ongoing dialogue with a seminar leader or instructor, or through a more formal presentation of research. They are essentially a place where assigned readings are discussed, questions can be raised and debates can be conducted. They are relatively informal.

For more examples of social and professional activities that may be of interest to your group please see Appendix C or visit: http://www.acm.org/chapters/professionals/Professional.pdf

CHAPTER MEETINGS

Successful chapter meetings are:

- Held at easily-accessible, affordable, and comfortable meeting sites.
- Regularly scheduled, as interest tends to lag if meetings are held too far apart.
- Convenient for the working needs of its members: dinner meetings provide a relaxing evening if they don't start too early or too late. Full-day seminars with many speakers or panel discussions also work well.
- Relevant, with speakers and panels on IT topics. The best way to determine this is to discuss with chapter members directly.
- Adequately publicized: make announcements on your website, mail schedules to members, and post notices on social media. Contact headquarters to send an announcement to ACM members via the “Chapters-announcement” listserv.

The size and scope of chapter meetings will vary. Chapters should have regular business, election, program, and community-service meetings throughout the year.

For details on these meetings please see Appendix D or visit: http://www.acm.org/chapters/professionals/toolkit/chapmtg?
CHAPTER CONFERENCES

ACM Chapter-Sponsored Conferences

When an ACM chapter serves as the sole sponsor of a conference, the chapter accepts complete responsibility for the financial, legal, and administrative aspects of the conference.

ACM chapters serving as co-sponsor of a conference share these responsibilities with other non-ACM entities. Only non-profit organizations may co-sponsor a chapter event. Co-sponsored conferences require a Joint Sponsorship Agreement between the ACM chapter and the other sponsoring organizations.

All conferences sponsored or co-sponsored by ACM chapters require advance approval from ACM. Conferences will not be considered for approval unless the chapter has been chartered and in good standing for one year. Chapters that meet that requirement must also complete the Technical Meeting Request Form (TMRF), which captures important information on the sponsors, the budget, and content of the conference.

ACM uses the following criteria when evaluating the TMRF:

Legal and Contractual Arrangements

ACM assesses the financial risks of the conference, such as:

- Revenue and Expenses, including consideration of the possible expense categories and the confirmation of external funding sources.
- The fund balance of the sponsors, and whether it is large enough to cover 100% loss.
- The terms of contractual liabilities, including cancellation clauses and agreements with hotels and other facilities.

Technical Merit and General Credibility of the Conference

ACM provides this evaluation based on conference attendance trends; the changes in the field that are reflected in the current planning; the stature of the conference and program chairs; and the focus of the technical program.

Conference Management Resources

Chapter conferences must have reliable management if they are to succeed. ACM reviews the arrangements to handle the planning and mechanics of the conference.
Chapter Conferences

ACM membership of the event organizers (officers of the chapter and planning committees)

As stated in ACM Bylaw 5, section IV, all officers of an ACM chapter must be ACM professional members. Membership is needed for indemnification of ACM chapters against damage and loss.

ACM Special Interest Group (SIG) Chapter conferences are approved by the Director of Chapters for the respective SIG. General Interest chapter conferences are approved by ACM’s Chief Operating Officer.

Please note that TMRFs for larger conferences should be submitted at least nine months in advance. Any drafts of calls for papers, facility contracts, or other tentative agreements should accompany the TMRF. Once the TMRF is approved, Chapters must submit a Budget Spreadsheet, showing a breakdown of the conference expenses.

Contracts may not be signed until you have submitted both the TMRF and the Budget Spreadsheet, and have received approval of your conference. Tentative commitments may be made, but with a clear understanding that the agreement is contingent upon receiving this approval. Until a meeting/conference is approved, ACM has no legal or financial responsibility for the arrangements.

An example of the Event TMRF and budget spreadsheet can be found at Appendix E. The actual documents can be accessed at http://www.acm.org/chapters/professionals/toolkit/.

CERTIFICATES OF INSURANCE

Some venues require ACM chapters to provide a certificate of insurance before hosting an event. In order to issue a certificate of insurance, we need the following information:

1. Date of Event
2. Name of Event
3. Name and address of company who will be the certificate holder
Certificates of Insurance

4. Service the certificate holder will be providing the conference
5. Location of event, including address
6. Type of event
7.Projected number of participants
8. Number of volunteers
9. Will alcohol be available? If yes, who will provide?
10. Contact info to email certificate (name, fax, email)

Please submit this information to local_activities@acm.org, at least one week in advance of the event.

ACM HEADQUARTERS SUPPORT

Database

All chapters receive access to the Chapter Administrative Interface which allows them to manage their member roster, update their chapter’s contact information, submit Annual Reports, and much more. Chapters are required to create a chapter web account using their chapter email to access the interface. The web account can be created at: http://campus.acm.org/public/account/chap/chap_acct.cfm.

All chapter officers should view the Chapter Administrative Interface webinar to familiarize themselves with the tool they will be regularly utilizing to maintain their chapter: http://www.acm.org/chapters/ChapterAdminInterface.pdf.

Membership Promotion

The headquarters office can help chapters planning ACM membership drives by providing ACM Membership applications, brochures, and promotional materials. To request promotional materials, fill out the application at the following URL: https://campus.acm.org/public/qi/profqi/promotional_materials.cfm

Chapter Outreach

If you would like to promote one of your events or notify local ACM members of your chapter, please send a draft of the email you would like sent to local_activities@acm.org. Please be sure to include the geographic areas you would like to reach, i.e., city or zip code range.
ACM Local

A new ACM program named “ACM Local” is leveraging Meetups to connect ACM Members, ACM Chapters, computing professionals and students in several major U.S. cities. There is no faster way to grow your technical network than to pull people together for a technical event. If you do that more than once, you have a community that becomes invested in you now and in the future. To help lead local events with a remote mentor contact ACM at local_activities@acm.org. For more information on the program visit: http://local.acm.org.

Listservs

ACM offers use of its Chapters-Announcement listserv to publicize noteworthy chapter events and conferences to ACM members in a specified area. The person requesting such services must have a valid ACM membership, and should send a message in plain text format, along with a zip code range or ranges, to local_activities@acm.org. Chapters are limited to one message per month.

Some examples of newsworthy items include:

- Joint meetings with other societies
- Speakers from our Distinguished Speakers Program
- Local conferences, workshops or seminars
- Special awards or recognition
- Scholarships
- Contests/competitions

Recognition of Service Certificates

Recognition of service certificates for outgoing chairpersons who have served at least one year in office will be issued free of charge upon written request. Certificates for other officers will be issued on a cost recovery basis. The ACM President and Secretary sign these certificates. Send your request to local_activities@acm.org.
CHAPTER OUTREACH AND COMMUNICATION

Social Media
Social media is a great way to stay in touch with chapter members and potential members. All chapters are encouraged to create and maintain Facebook pages and Twitter accounts for their chapters. Create informative and interactive posts, announce upcoming meetings, connect with other chapters in the area and show the community what makes your chapter special. Don’t forget to “like” the ACM Facebook page at: https://www.facebook.com/pages/ACM-Association-for-Computing-Machinery/17927643151.

CHAPTER NEWSLETTER

A chapter newsletter is an excellent tool for building interest and encouraging participation in chapter activities. Titles (or subtitles) of the newsletter should contain “Newsletter of the {ACM Chapter Name}”. Titles should not include the terms that are used to identify other genres. In addition to “Newsletter” itself, terms like Bulletin, Forum, News, Notes, Notices, Pointers, and Exchanges often occur in newsletter titles.

Newsletter content varies. The following are suggested topics that can appear in print and/or online versions of the newsletter: Information on Activities, Chapter Membership and Leadership Information, and Reviews and Continuing Education. For more information on these topics, please see Appendix F or visit: http://www.acm.org/chapters/professionals/toolkit/mail_pub.

ACM has created a new standard Chapter logo that can be found at: http://www.acm.org/chapters/professionals/toolkit/acmchapterlogo. This is the logo that should be used on your newsletter cover and on your Chapter website.

FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITIES AND REQUIREMENTS

All ACM chapters collect and disburse their own funds. ACM Bylaw 8 [Financial Safeguards], Sections 4 and 5, and ACM Bylaw 5, Section 6 [Finance] provide detailed information regarding the rights and responsibilities of ACM chapters regarding financial matters. The following is a summary of these responsibilities:
1. Any chapter that collects, holds or disburses funds on behalf of the Association or any of its branches must submit an annual accounting of such funds.

2. Chapter funds will be accounted for in the Association’s IRS return unless the chapter specifically desires to file a separate return with the IRS. If a chapter Secretary/Treasurer chooses to file its own return, it must provide a copy of the return to the ACM Finance Director.

3. Failure to submit financial reports is grounds for revocation of charter as provided in the Constitution and Bylaws of the Association.

4. Any chapter desiring to solicit donations of more than $5,000 cash or equivalent goods or services from a single source must obtain advance approval from the ACM Chief Operating Officer. Solicitations of donations of small magnitude for a specific goal of a specified time do not require approval.

5. Disbursements of funds for expenditures necessary for the normal operation of the chapter do not require approval. Any chapter desiring to disburse funds beyond those necessary for normal operations must obtain advance approval of the ACM Chief Operating Officer.

6. Upon dissolution of a chapter or revocation of a chapter’s charter, all assets of the chapter become the property of the Association. The only exception to this rule is in the case of certain student chapters, whose educational institutions require that such assets be transferred to them for a purpose within the contemplation of section 501 (c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

Federal Employer Identification Number [For U.S. Chapters Only]

ACM has a Federal Employer Identification Number (EIN), which is similar to an individual’s social security number. This number is required by the IRS for purposes of filing informational or any other type of return with the IRS. Each year, ACM Headquarters applies for EINs on behalf of the newly chartered chapters and chapters which have not been assigned EINs. Headquarters will notify the chapters of their EINs when they are received. The chapter's EIN should be used when opening a bank account and should be noted on the annual financial report filed with ACM Headquarters.

Fiscal Period

ACM operates on a fiscal year which begins July 1st and ends June 30th. All financial books and records are maintained, and all IRS returns reported, on this fiscal calendar. To facilitate the chapter’s preparation of the annual Statement of Cash Receipts and Disbursements, and ACM’s preparation of the Group Form 990 Return, it is helpful for all ACM chapters to use the July 1 to June 30 fiscal year schedule.
Financial Support and Sponsorship

Sources of financial support will vary depending on the local situation. The chapter officers should read the ACM policy and procedure statement (section 15.3.1.2 in the ACM Policy and Procedures). For tax purposes, as well as to comply with ACM policy, it is important to distinguish between an acknowledgment of support and a paid advertisement. An acknowledgement of support should be given to anyone who has donated $250 or more. Please see an example acknowledgement of support letter in Appendix G.

The chapter Treasurer must account for all sponsor money on the annual financial statement (also known as the annual report) and to the ACM Director of Finance. ACM does not prohibit chapters from accepting paid advertising, but the practice is strongly discouraged. As a general rule, ACM chapters should always be very careful to maintain the non-commercial nature of the Association, especially in a local area.

Finally, there are several complex IRS issues involved with US not-for-profit organizations and advertising revenue. Revenue from advertisements is considered not related to ACM's tax exempt purpose and therefore is considered "unrelated business income," which is potentially taxable (even for not-for-profit organizations.) The IRS requires that any chapter which collects over $1000 per year of such income complete and to submit a 990-T return, a form which many accountants consider one of the most confusing and difficult IRS forms to understand and prepare. Although ACM chapters may be included in ACM's Group 990 return, they cannot be included in ACM's 990-T tax filing, so they must prepare the form themselves. If a chapter is required to fill the 990-T, they must submit it to the IRS on/by November 15th for the applicable tax year as it is due 5 months after ACM's fiscal year end. Any chapter considering accepting paid advertising should consult the ACM Director of Finance to understand the various tax and other issues involved.

Responsibilities of Chapter Officers

Most chapters have an executive council, which includes elected chapter officers, the past Chairperson and, in many cases, the chairpersons of the standing committees. The chapter’s executive council is generally responsible for managing the chapter’s affairs (with the exception of electing officers and amending bylaws). It is essential for the executive council to be open to the suggestions and feedback of the chapter membership, and should always be open to offers of help.

Upon assuming the office, all chapter officers should contact the ACM Local Activities Coordinator to introduce him/herself, review chapter bylaws and policies and procedures, and review the events of the past year with his/her predecessors.

The Chapter Chair

The chapter Chairperson has the overall responsibility for developing chapter programs, for ensuring that plans and assignments are carried out, and for seeing that the chapter fulfills its obligations to the Association. The Chairperson should be familiar with the policies and procedures of the Association, with the chapter’s bylaws, and with the duties of all the other chapter officers and committee chairpersons.

The newly-elected Chairperson should schedule an executive committee meeting which includes the outgoing officers as well. At that time, the Chairperson may want to schedule executive council meetings for the entire year. Keep in mind the advantages of scheduling the meeting at the same time each month.

Before getting too far along in the chapter’s year, the Chairperson should do the following: appoint or establish nominating committee according to bylaws for next year’s elections; communicate activities of the chapter to the local membership (many chapter chairpersons write a column in the chapter newsletter); set audit procedures in motion at year end for financial records turnover; and plan a budget with the chapter Treasurer, to be reviewed and approved by the entire executive council.

If the chapter’s area includes other local ACM groups, the Chairperson should contact the appropriate chairpersons and suggest a meeting. At the meeting, the chairpersons should discuss the possibilities for cooperative efforts, such as joint meetings, reciprocal advertising agreements, the sharing of membership lists, and planning of lecture tours. They should also discuss meeting times to ensure that one group’s meetings do not conflict with meetings of other ACM chapters in the area.

One of the most important duties of the chapter Chairperson is finding enthusiastic and qualified members to serve as committee chairpersons.
Appendix B: Responsibilities of Chapter Officers

The Chairperson should strive to bring new people into the committee structure to provide training for future chapter leaders. The job of chapter chairperson will be much more enjoyable and (much less exhausting) once responsible and reliable volunteers are found to take on various duties. It is strongly recommended that the chapter chairperson take the time at general meetings to acknowledge those chapter volunteers whose help has been valuable. This positive feedback and public recognition of good works is often just the encouragement an active volunteer needs to commit to a longer-term leadership position in the chapter in future years.

The Chapter Vice Chair

The chapter Vice Chairperson should be prepared to assume the office of Chairperson or temporarily act in that position at any time. The Vice Chairperson should be familiar with the duties and responsibilities of the Chairperson, and of the other elected officers and committee chairpersons.

The Vice Chairperson can be an integral component of the chapter’s operation. In most cases, the Vice Chairperson is responsible for overseeing the activities and progress of the various committee and chapter programs.

The Chapter Treasurer

(This position may be combined with the chapter secretary’s responsibilities)

The chapter’s financial management and operation are of great importance to the Association. The chapter Treasurer is responsible for the fiscal operation and reporting of the chapter, and of all committees and programs established by the chapter.

Upon assuming office, it is recommended that the Treasurer notify banks of signature change on accounts and verify that the ACM Chief Operating Officer has signature authority on all bank accounts.

The ongoing responsibilities of the chapter treasurer include:

1. Maintaining all chapter financial records and chapter checkbook;
2. Collecting money at meetings if applicable;
3. Filing mandatory annual financial report with headquarters;
4. Supplying appropriate budget report to the executive board of the chapter;
5. Reporting financial status to chapter;
6. Coordinating membership procedure and fee with membership chairperson.
Appendix B: Responsibilities of Chapter Officers

The Chapter Secretary
(This position may be combined with the chapter treasurer's responsibilities.)

The ongoing responsibilities of the Chapter Secretary include:

1. Informing ACM Headquarters of the names and contact information of new officers and providing headquarters with updated membership lists;
2. Sending agenda to board members for executive board meetings and recording the minutes of such meetings;
3. Handling all chapter correspondence on a timely basis;
4. Maintaining chapter files for historical purposes;
5. Corresponding with headquarters regarding changes to the chapter's bylaws.

Additional Positions may include the following: (These positions are not required by ACM)

The Chapter Membership Chairperson

The Membership Chairperson is responsible for:
1. Coordinating membership procedures and fee with Treasurer;
2. Recruiting new members to ACM and contacting headquarters for promotional materials;
3. Maintaining chapter membership records and database, including member name, email, phone, fax number, address, company, dues payment, and ACM membership number;
4. Establishing a membership campaign, especially at renewal time;
5. Working to set up corporate membership and institutional sponsorship programs when possible; and
6. Communicating with the Local Activities Coordinator about renewal trends.

The Faculty Sponsor

The Sponsor shall be a faculty member or full-time staff member of your school. Each Student Chapter has one Sponsor.

The Student Chapter Sponsor shall be generally responsible for the activities of the Chapter. Specifically, the Sponsor helps provide continuity from year to year as student leadership and personnel change; promotes good student-faculty relationships; helps maintain university standards in all activities of the Chapter; and exercises financial supervision, if necessary, by promoting prompt payment of bills and collection of dues and overseeing the settlement of all accounts in the event of dissolution of the Chapter.
Ideas for Chapter Activities

The kinds of activities a chapter can undertake are endless, depending on the creativity and interest of each group. But here are a few examples of social and professional activities that may be of interest to your group:

Distinguished Speakers Program/Lectures: Invite one of ACM’s Distinguished Speakers to speak with your chapter on a topic of your choice. Plan the event with other local organizations and publicize it well to recruit a big audience or even new chapter members. http://www.dsp.acm.org/

Panel Discussions and Roundtables: Invite three or four people from the technology workforce or organize the event with members from your chapter. This will encourage discussions and exchange of ideas and opinions.

Screenings: Screening of past ACM/SIG DVDs, i.e.: SIGGRAPH Computer Animation Festival, Electronic Theater, etc. This is also an opportunity to screen locally created short films or preview new animated movies.

Joint Meetings: Joint meetings are a great way to interact with local professionals. They are also an opportunity for Professional Chapters to meet with local Student Chapters to teach and advise.

Mixers/Social Events: Host an event, dinner, or dessert party where the main purpose is to meet and greet. Encourage others to interact and exchange thoughts and ideas. For a change of pace, these events can be hosted at bowling alleys, bars, restaurants or at a park on a nice day.

Sports Teams: Enlist your chapter in a local sporting league. This will promote unity and bonding amongst chapter members, as well as encourage friendly competition!

Holiday Parties: Celebrate the holidays together with food, drinks, games and prizes! A great chance to get to know all the members and officers better.

How-to Presentations: Have an expert in a specific field demonstrate and teach. How-to’s can range from anything including “How to fix a resume” to “How to use Photoshop,” and more. The sky is the limit!

Fundraising: Fundraising is a great way to earn money for your chapter to help with conference fees, etc. Raffles, dance-a-thons, coffee and donut sales, are just a few great ways.
BYO______: Bring your own (blank). This is a great opportunity to showcase hidden talent and come together to network.

Conferences: Sponsor or co-sponsor a conference with a local non-profit organization. A conference is an excellent platform for researchers in all current areas of information technology to present their latest research findings, as well as an open forum for networking and exchanging of ideas.

App Workshops: There are hundreds of thousands of apps available in the app market and the numbers are ever increasing. What makes an app good, and how can we quantify that? Host a talk that explores these questions, and use example apps to illustrate relevant features.

Networking: Interact with other people to exchange information and develop contacts.

Seminars: Seminars bring together small groups for recurring meetings, focusing each time on some particular subject, in which everyone present is requested to actively participate. This is often accomplished through an ongoing dialogue with a seminar leader or instructor, or through a more formal presentation of research. They are essentially a place where assigned readings are discussed, questions can be raised and debates can be conducted. They are relatively informal.
Chapter Meetings

Business Meetings
With the exception of election meetings, many chapters conduct most business in executive council meetings and devote general meetings to professional programs. Summaries of business conducted in council meetings should be available to chapter membership through the newsletter or brief reports at general meetings.

Executive council meetings should be announced in advance to the chapter membership to encourage them to attend. An “open door” policy for executive council encourages participation in chapter management, thus providing a pool of potential chapter leaders.

Election Meetings
Chapter members meet once a year to elect chapter officers for the next year. This often takes place in the spring.

Program Meetings
Program meetings can either be dinner or non-dinner meetings. They should follow the same general format:

- A welcoming statement, usually by the chapter chair, to welcome attendees and to talk briefly about the chapter
- introduction of the speaker
- the talk
- a question and answer period
- a closing statement to thank the speaker for the program and announce the next meeting

A program meeting can be speakers from local organizations, corporations, or universities; roundtable discussions or specialized panel discussions; hardware demonstrations; joint meetings with other societies that focus on computer applications; site tours; and social events. Sources for speakers and discussions include local organizations, corporations, and scholars. It is a good idea to get speakers from other parts of the country. Many companies are often willing to pay all expenses connected with sending an individual to speak to an ACM Chapter.

Many chapters organize regional symposia and conferences. These conferences are often held in cooperation with other chapters or organizations. It is important to note that any affiliation with an ACM chapter requires advance approval from either the Local Activities Coordinator or the Director of SIG Services. The proceedings from ACM-approved conferences are eligible to appear in the ACM Digital Library.

Community Service Meetings

ACM chapters usually have a community service component to their programs. Chapters often serve as the outreach arm of the Association; promoting information technology and computing at the grassroots level is a critical part of ACM’s mission. Here are a few suggestions for community projects:

Speakers bureau: An organized pool of computing professionals offer to lecture and lead discussions on IT topics and careers for schools and other civic groups.

Television and film production: Closed circuit presentation of chapter speakers has been arranged through education networks; special programs have been developed for education television and for local stations that carry public interest programs.

Donations of ACM publications to Local Institutions: Copies of back issues of ACM publications can be solicited from members. Complete sets are welcomed by libraries in educational institutions.

Programming courses: This is perhaps the most common chapter activity in the education field. Classes have been organized for audiences ranging from elementary school students to classroom teachers, as well as the disadvantaged in the local area.

Career guidance in computing: chapters can cooperate with the local school system in career guidance days.

Sponsorship of student chapters (To view the directory of ACM Student Chapters visit: http://www.acm.org/chapters/maps/)

ACM Student Chapters require a professional ACM member to serve as sponsor. Student Chapters look to Professional Chapters for advice and assistance. Professional Chapters may offer themselves as a source of speakers for student meetings, and as an introduction to Professional Chapters as the students prepare to graduate. Student Chapter members can assist Professional Chapters at professional development seminars and other large events; students are usually willing to trade a half-day’s work for free registration.

The enclosed Event TMRF has been prepared to the best of my ability. It is complete and accurate and I agree to provide ACM with required reports.

If this event is approved by ACM, I agree to comply with ACM financial policies for Chapter Events. I understand that whenever it becomes known that income or expense will vary more than 15% (or the amount of contingency) in any major category of the budget, an amendment must be sent to the Chapter Coordinator at ACM HQ for approval distribution. I will provide a final financial report along with a summary of the events activities as part of the Annual Chapter Report.

I am informed of the ACM policy on free circulation of scientists as it applies to the ACM Resolution on Sponsorship of International Conference of 25 May 1975 and of the spirit and intent of the relevant Resolution on the Free Circulation of Scientists of the International Council of Scientific Unions. I know of no aspect of the proposed meeting which is contrary to this intent.

ACM will indemnify you for any damages you may incur provided that you have adhered to the foregoing policies and procedures.

Chapter Newsletter

The following are suggested topics that can appear in print and/or online versions of the newsletter:

Information on Activities

- Meeting announcement and biographical information for an upcoming speaker
- Chapter conference and/or Professional Development Seminar announcements
- Meeting announcements for other related organizations and other activities
- Most chapters establish contact with other computer societies in the area to exchange publicity announcements. Once the contacts are established, chapters should mail meeting notices to these groups and reciprocate by including their notices in the chapter newsletter.
- Announcements of ACM and ACM SIG conferences - these are all displayed on the ACM Conference Calendar http://www.acm.org/calendar-of-events

Chapter Membership and Leadership Information

- Chapter Membership Application
- Minutes of executive council meetings
- Reports on chapter committee meetings from the people involved along with announcements of future committee meetings.
- List of Council officers, their employers, and telephone numbers supplied by the secretary
- Names of all local corporate associate sponsors
- Chairperson Corner—Notes and updates supplied by the Chapter Chairperson

Reviews and Continuing Education

- Courses in the computer field given by schools, universities, and private companies, and government activities related to computing and technology.
- Meeting reviews; conference reviews; book reviews
- Articles on pertinent topics, obtained from the following sources:
Appendix F: Chapter Newsletter

- Newsletters from other ACM local chapters and related organizations: Exchange of chapter newsletters is a good means of keeping up with events in groups similar to your own. Other chapter newsletters are also a source of ideas on format and content.
