Recruitment Program of PUCIT ACM Student Chapter:

Every year at PUCIT ACM Student Chapter elections are conducted for the selection of executive body members. General Body Members of the previous tenure nominate the candidates for various executive positions including

- Chairperson
- Vice Chairperson
- Assistant Vice Chairperson
- General Secretary
- Treasurer

Nominated candidates are allowed to carry out a campaign for a couple of weeks, in which they announce a mandate for the coming tenure. At the elections day, each candidate is given three to five minutes in which he / she can explain his mandate and plans for the upcoming tenure to the voters.

Voters for this election include faculty Sponsors of PASC, Ex-executive members and the General Body Members of the previous tenure. The voters are allowed to ask questions from the candidates. When the candidates are done with their speeches, votes are casted under the supervision of a faculty sponsor who acts as an Election Commissioner. Votes are counted by the election commissioner and he announces the result. After results selected candidates take oath and officially the tenure is started.

Elections are conducted in summer break, and university opens in fall. When semester starts, recruitment drive is officially launched and publicized in campus. Freshmen are entertained with various facilities by PASC executive members. They are guided about university, courses, are provided with books and briefed about ACM.

All applicants of the recruitment drive are invited for interviews which are carried out for four days. Selected students are short listed and confirmation is done till the end of second week. At the start of the third week, a General Body Meeting is called, where all selected body members are briefed about their responsibilities. At the end of the General Body Meeting, all body members take oath for the upcoming tenure.
